

Call for Organizers: SHARP 2024

The annual SHARP conference for 2024 is looking for organizers and a host institution.

- Are you associated with an institution or area with an underrepresented bookishness?
- Do you and your colleagues have great ideas about how contemporary conferences should be organized?
- Do you want to develop new and build on existing SHARP conference traditions?

If you answered yes to any one of these questions, consider hosting and organizing a SHARP annual conference.

We are looking for forward-thinking, well-organized, and dedicated people to make SHARP 2024 a successful conference. Whether that is in-person, completely online, or hybrid is up to you.

Please fill in the Google Form before March 13, 2023, for immediate consideration.
